Report Gives Wind Erosion As Major Agricultural Problem

REGINA.—Of 50 land use surveys taken in Saskatchewan since 1948, 35 of the municipalities involved reported wind erosion as a major agricultural problem. In an east central municipality, 21 per cent. of the farmers had wind erosion problems, and in the southwest this increased to 31 per cent.

The Director of the provincial agriculture department's plant industry branch, R. E. McKenzie, said moderate to severe soil drifting has occurred almost every year in some areas of Saskatchewan. He urged farmers to conduct their field operations in such a manner as to control wind erosion.

Mr. McKenzie stated that with extended cultivated acreage and an apparent reversion to large open fields of summerfallow, one dry, windy year could result in the erosion of thousands of acres.

Each of the various methods of control, the Director added, has a definite and distinct value in the over-all program. These methods include ploughless fallow with trash cover, strip farming or a modification of strip farming, cultivating to produce a cloddy soil condition, ploughing or listing in more serious cases, and permanently regressing areas of severe drifting. The planting of field shelterbelts is a long-term method of control which normally shows good results within five years.

Advocated as the best practice is the use of ploughless fallow with trash cover. After combining high, the stubble is worked so that it is anchored in the top two or three inches of soil. Under no circumstances should the stubble be burned off, but left to protect the soil. If the stubble is burned weed and soil drifting control is made more difficult. On bare land, the number of cultivations needed for weed control will pulverize the soil and start drifting. If the stubble is left and worked in, the soil can safely be cultivated more often.

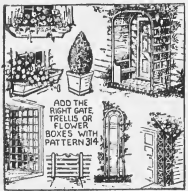

On trash cover follow only those operations needed for weed control should be carried out. Duck-foot or blade cultivators cause minimum pulverization and leave the trash on the surface. Such implements can be operated at up to five miles an hour, while the use of disc implements at more than two or three miles an hour results in much greater pulverization and drifting. It is also advisable not to work summerfallow too late in the fall. Weeds appearing after the last cultivation will be frozen before reaching maturity.

Your Own Private Hothouse

To all those with a yen for gardening who have felt a desire to experiment with their own private pint-size hothouse the model shown in the photo may have some interest and help.

1. The dimensions are 4' x 6' with a height of 4' on the ends from the bottom to the ridge.
2. The floor must be installed at the desired height so that the operator does his work standing up.
3. The plants are started in flats or flower pots rather than the method used in the usual hot frame.
4. In the model shown, the heat is supplied by four infra-red heat lamps installed along the bottom of the ridge and may be varied according to the heat required.
5. Four window sashes are shown and each is hinged to the ridge. The entire structure can be dismantled easily and stored when not in use.

NUMBER OF PHONES DOUBLE IN MANITOBA IN SEVEN YEARS

WINNIPEG.—Provincial Treasurer Turner estimated that by the end of the year there will be 275,000 telephones in use in Manitoba, almost double the 1946 total.

Exchange service had been modernized and thousands of telephones had been converted to the dial type. It was estimated 415,000 telephone calls were made last year.

BOSTON.—A hundred years ago Bostonians puzzled over this brain-teaser published by the Traveler. Arrange the nine digits and the cipher, using each but once and make the sum 100 in a single addition. The answer? Well, look in the 1853 file of the Traveler, if you must, but it's really very simple.

Roads Important To Development Of The Prairies

Roads and road transportation will play an increasingly important role in the development of the vast untapped northern areas of the prairie provinces, according to C. W. Gilchrist, Ottawa, managing director of the Canadian Good Roads Association, who is now on an extended tour of the west, consulting with highway ministers and other officials.

He cited as good examples of roads that would pay for themselves many lines over in a comparatively few years, the MacKenzie Highway between Peace River and Great Slave Lake; the 175-mile road from Prince Albert to Lac la Ronge, Saskatchewan, and the new development roads into the unmineralized areas of the Precambrian Shield in the northern and eastern areas of Manitoba.

In Mr. Gilchrist's view the federal government should be sharing the cost of more essential new roads for development purposes in the west, as well as contributing to highways which may be vital defence arteries in event of war.

During the post-war years provincial governments have been spending record amounts on modernization and expansion of highway systems, he said, but because of the phenomenal increase in road transport they have not been able to keep pace with requirements.

Although highway building in all 10 provinces this year will likely exceed the record $350 million dollars spent on roads in 1952, Mr. Gilchrist said it had been estimated that the provinces would have to spend up to $250 million more each year than is now being spent "to bring roads up to a minimum level of efficiency."

Pointing out the danger signs ahead for highway administrators, Mr. Gilchrist said that during the seven post-war years, automotive vehicle registration had more than doubled from 1.5 million to 3.2 mil-

Farming The Safe Way...

Statistics indicate that 60 per cent. of the fatal accidents on farms are caused from improper use of the tractor. J. L. Thompson of the Swift Current Experimental Station advises accidents can be reduced to a minimum by carefully observing the following safety rules:—

1. Do not allow young children to operate a tractor.
2. In hitching, do not stand on the ground between the moving tractor and the implement. Always block up the hitch and use a hook to align tractor drawbar.
3. Let the clutch in slowly when going up a hill, or starting off in high gear.
4. Stop the power take-off when getting off the tractor.
5. Keep the safety shield over the power take-off assembly.
6. Stay on the seat when the tractor is in motion. Stop to adjust levers or employ hydraulic controls.
7. Never allow passengers on the tractor.
8. In high gear, apply both brakes evenly when a quick stop has to be made. Uneven braking causes tipping at high speed.
9. Never change the hitch point above the axle centre line. Always use the drawbar.
10. On heavy loads engage the clutch slowly or the front end may come up.
11. Wait until the tractor stops before dismounting.
12. Stop the motor before filling the fuel tank; also avoid spilling fuel on the hot motor.
13. Throttle down the motor when turning a corner, applying the brakes, or going over rough ground.
14. Allow a boiling radiator to cool down before removal of the cap for inspection.
15. In changing tires always use the proper blocking to prevent tipping.
16. Keep the steering mechanism and tires in good shape, and front wheels aligned on highway travelling.
17. In hilly countries use a red flag on a high pole to warn motorists.
18. When travelling on highways at night use the proper lighting in both front and rear.

Safety pays in time and lives. By observing these simple rules a life may be saved.

PIGMY ELEPHANT FOUND IN AFRICA

ROME.—An Italian scientific expedition reported from Africa it had shot a pigmy elephant of a hitherto unknown species.

Capt. Antonio Ziccardi, in a message from Southern Somalia, said the discovery was "one of the rarest animal findings ever made." He said the elephant was more than 100 years old, about six feet high, and weighed only about 450 pounds. The rare find will be brought to Italy, Ziccardi said.

Garden Notes

For Amateur Gardeners

BE READY

A small duster or sprayer is an essential piece of equipment for most gardeners. Nothing is more discouraging than to get flowers, vegetables or shrubbery flourishing and then to discover that bugs or insects are ruining them. If one counter-attacks promptly, however, there is little difficulty about control. For every pest, there is some chemical or other treatment to keep it in check. Usually a spray or dust is used. For insects that eat holes in foliage the remedy is a poison of some kind, such as arsenate of lead, DDT, copper sulphate, nicotine, etc. For the pests that suck out the juice a burning spray or dust incorporating sulphur is recommended, or sometimes special soap and water or some of the tobacco solutions. Use sprayers when the foliage is dry. With the dust, best results are obtained on a day without wind and just after a rain or dew. With all chemicals one is well advised to study and follow directions carefully and make sure that the proper material is used for the particular pest concerned.

THE RIGHT TOOL HELPS

Gardening does not require a whole lot of expensive equipment like some other recreations that could be mentioned. Nevertheless work will be speeded and made a lot easier with a few special tools. With most of this hand equipment it is advisable to have long handles so that one does not have to stoop. It is surprising how accurate and quickly one can do thinning and weeding of even tiny stuff with a long handled sharp hoe or cultivator provided the same is narrow or comes to a point. The D-shaped ditch hoe, too, are excellent things for playing weeds wholesale and loosening up the top soil, but one must be careful in using too close to sprouting vegetables and flowers. Here again it is better to have a small sized implement rather than a big one. The hand drag has three or five pronged cultivators will save much drudgery where a fairly large space is to be cultivated and for getting in and around flowers, there are all sorts of tiny rakes, trowel-like cultivators. With any of this equipment the work will be cut in half if the tools are kept sharp and clean. It is a good plan to have an old file handy.

THERE IS PLENTY OF TIME YET

For every plant or seed lost through late plugging there are probably a dozen that perish through being put in too soon. Nothing is gained by rushing. True, certain grass seed, peas, nursery stock, and such lovers of cool weather can hardly be put in too soon. But with the great majority of the flowers and vegetables we grow in Canada there is no hurry. The main growing period, speaking generally, will be June and early July and often those things which are planted a week or two later than first will catch up. Of course with most vegetables experienced gardeners advise planting not once but several times and at about a fortnight or three-week intervals. This brings them along in succession, spreading the harvesting or good-eating season over weeks instead of days. To extend that season still further it is also advisable to use at least one early and one late maturing variety of each sort.

CHEMICAL FERTILIZERS

With manure scarce, gardeners have turned more and more to chemical fertilizers. These are clean, easy to use and powerful. They are made up of three main elements, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, with the proportions of each expressed in formulae of three figures thus 4-4-4. The first of these boosts the green growth above the ground and is especially valuable for lawns, lettuce, cabbage and other leafy vegetables. The phosphoric acid encourages the growth of starch and sugars, flowers and seeds. Potash balances the other two and helps maturity. When vegetables are stunted or misshapen it is usually a sign that the soil is deficient in potash. Commercial fertilizers should be used carefully according to directions and worked into the soil close to but not actually touching the plants or roots.

THE LITTLE GIRL WITH DANCING FEET

When you're cooking prunes, add a stick of cinnamon to the pot. Slices of lemon for a little different flavor. Let the prunes chill in the syrup so they'll be juicy and plump.

To remove tar or pitch stains rub them with sweet oil or lard. If on silk or worsted materials they can be removed by rubbing with alcohol.

To restore the original brightness of pearl buttons rub them with a little olive oil which takes away that blurred appearance. Finish by polishing well with nail powder.

Rub lemon juice into the bread board. It will whiten the wood beautifully and will absorb all grease and dirt from the board.

On The Side : E. V. Durling

Who was the greatest wrestler of all time? How about Younsouf, the Terrible Turk? Younsouf, who was 6 foot 2 and weighed 280 lbs, was tossing opponents into the spectator's laps before many of the present-day grapplers were born. George Bothner, who weighed only 135, once took on the Terrible Turk. That was noble of George. But the Turk quickly tossed him into the audience. The Turk was managed by W. A. Brady, who had also managed the champion boxer, Jim Jeffries. Younsouf was quite an eater. For breakfast he regularly ate four loaves of bread, nine eggs and three plates of oatmeal, washed down with a gallon of black coffee.

Two Views on the Subject

It was Dorothy Lamour who said, "Kissing a man with a beard is like falling on a whisky broom." A young matron of Manhattan strongly disagrees with Miss Lamour. She says her husband has a "full beard." She adds, "A beard in no way has the effect in kissing of so-called 5 o'clock shadow. A beard soft. Kissing a man with a beard is a delightful experience. I am sorry for those women who have missed it."

No Advertisement for Tourism

An unpleasant angle to foreign travel, from the viewpoint of many women, is that they are constantly being required to state their age. In Spain, the ages of all guests must be recorded on hotel registers. That's the law.

For Benefit of Bedrooms

Research indicates June is still by far the most popular month for weddings. As is our annual custom, we will offer helpful hints for June bridegrooms. Right now, young fellows who are contemplating marriage in June should give the prospective bride a final check so as to be certain no mistake will be made. Is she a sympathetic girl with a sense of humor? Has she had experience in the world of business? Can she cook? Has she a knowledge of interior decoration, table decoration, entertaining, etc.? Has she taken a course in car? Is her mother plump? If a mother in her forties is plump, her daughter will probably be likewise at the same age, and not look so good in a bathing suit. More helpful hints to June bridegrooms will appear in an early issue.

Those Geese

The claim that all male geese have blue eyes, all female geese brown eyes, is erroneous. It is extremely difficult to determine the sex of a young goose or gosling. When the goslings grow a little older, if one is noticed chasing other goslings, it is probably a male. When the gosling becomes a gander, it has a longer neck and holds its head a little higher than the females. However, the only certain way to determine the sex of a goose is to go in for some spying and see which of the flock is laying the eggs. Or so I am informed by a subscriber who was brought up on a farm.

Less Confusion, Please

Leslie Brooks was christened Lorraine, but she changed her name. Why should a girl with an attractive name such as Lorraine want to be called Leslie and so add to the world's confusion? Leslie is definitely a man's name. Blondes are more likely to give birth to twins than brunettes or redheads. So I see it claimed. Nonsense! Nothing to that. However, a woman married to a man of Irish birth or descent is more likely to have twins than other women. That I can prove.

Farm Post Office Brought Tragedy

MOOSE JAW. — You won't find Leaskville, Sask., on any map or in any history book, but it did exist and vividly to those who ran it. It was a meandering country post office that served the people of the surrounding district from 1914 to 1941.

During 1932, Leaskville appeared in news stories of oil ventures as the location where the Sohio Petroleum Company was drilling for oil. It's supposed to be about 17 miles south of Moose Jaw, but if you went there you wouldn't find it.

Leaskville, the post-office that seemingly carried a "kiss of death" to its operators, was named after its first postmaster Charles Leask. He was an Englishman who came to Canada in 1914, homesteading in the area south of here.

In 1914 Leask got permission to operate the post office and the postal department decided to name the location Leaskville. Even then there was something in the nature of a settlement or even a store at the farm of Charles Leask.

Leask moved away in 1916 and Leaskville moved to a nearby farm under Ernest Clegg's direction. About six months later, Leaskville delivered its first "death kiss." Clegg's wife and son died in a well he had excavated for water. He had found no water, but coal and an obnoxious gas in the well took the lives of the three.

Clegg's death moved the post office several miles away to the farm of Jesse Fullwater. Again, death came, this time to Mrs. Fullwater. By coincidence, Mrs. Leask had died shortly after Leask had moved from Leaskville.

Fullwater found it impossible to go on with the post office and in the spring of 1918, Leaskville again changed hands. Walter Lawler, who lived on Clegg's original homestead took over.

Leaskville operation was uneventful from then until 1941, the mail arriving a week without fail. By then improved roads and the common ownership of cars partly removed the need of the post office and residents of the area were served by village nearby.

But a real coal cause of closing down Leaskville was the advent of power machinery, larger farms and a decline in the number of persons to serve.

CARELESS TRAPPERS

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. — Government officials estimate that northern Saskatchewan trappers "lost" about $88,000 by submitting damaged or poorly processed muskrat pelts for sale in the last two seasons. In the same period the similar loss on beaver pelts totalled $13,000.

CHINESE DROUGHT AREA 2,000 MILES LONG

HONG KONG. — Drought has parched a 2,000-mile-long area of central China and the situation there is "very serious", Communist Chinese press reports reaching here said. The affected area lies within a great arc extending from Szechwan Province in the southwest to the Manchurian frontier in the northwest.

How To Avoid Arm Ailments

The record book is full of facts and figures that show the large number of baseball players who have ruined their arms completely by not working in their arms properly at the start of the season. Then, too, there are many more who partially ruin their arms even though they are not completely spoiled. Here's a drill which will prepare your arm properly for the coming season and help you avoid those discouraging sore arms.

You and a pal should stand about 30 feet apart. Then toss the ball back and forth at a nice slow and easy pace. When you are throwing, don't just throw haphazardly, instead, aim at a definite target set by your pal and be sure to have the target moved around each time.

Another point to remember is to make sure you are using an absolutely perfect throwing action. Be especially careful to keep your arm very loose and relaxed and also emphasize the use of a good wrist snap and a long, easy follow-through after the ball has left your hand.

Add three feet to the distance between you every day. Then, when you are 60 feet apart, start throwing a little faster every day and spend a few minutes throwing longer distances with a smooth, easy action. However, do not attempt to throw anywhere near as fast or as far as you can until you have worked up to 90 feet. You will often be tempted to really blast one down at full speed but—don't do it! Just control yourself and remember the more patient you are the better your arm will work all year. Don't forget—your arm is your arm by using your

MOTHER'S DAY Edgar Guest

Gentle hands that never weary toiling in loves vineyard sweet,

Eyes that seem forever cheery when our eyes they chance to meet,

Tender, patient, brave, devoted, this is always mother's way.

Could her worth in gold be quoted as you think of her today?

There shall never be another quite so tender; quite so kind
As the patient little mother; nowhere on this earth you'll find.

Her affection duplicated; none so proud if you are fine
Could her worth be overstated? Not by any words of mine.

Death stood near the hour she bore us, agony was hers to know,

Yet she bravely faced it for us, smiling in her time of woe;
Down the years how oft we've tried her, often selfish, heedless, blind,

Yet with love alone to guide her she was never once unkind.

Vain are all our tributes to her if in words alone they dwell.

We must give the praises due her; there's no other way to tell

Gentle mother that we love her. Would you say as you recall

All the patient service of her, you've been worthy of it all?

Ford To Open New Factory

At 3:45 o'clock (DST) Monday afternoon, May 11, the first car will drive off the assembly line at Ford of Canada's new plant at Oakville, Ontario, signalling the start of production for Canada's newest industrial giant.

Although no large public ceremony is planned, a number of civic officials from the area will be present including the reeve, councillors and township officials of Trafalgar township, the mayor, councillors and officials of Oakville; the warden and clerk of the county of Halton, and the member of parliament and the legislative assembly from the county of Halton. Representatives of the press will also be present.

Start of the Oakville assembly line operations in time 32½ acre plant marks the completion of one stage in Ford of Canada's huge expansion program. The next stage is the enlargement and modernization of manufacturing facilities at Windsor to keep pace with the capacity of the Oakville plant. Cost of the total expansion program has been estimated at $65,000,000, approximately half for the Oakville and half for new facilities in Windsor.

The build-up of production at the new plant will be gradual as Ford Oakville first takes over the assembly of cars, then the trucks. Installation of the truck assembly lines will proceed in one part of the plant while passenger cars are being built in another section. Step by step, with as little production interruption as possible, assembly operation will be moved from Windsor and, as fast as space is vacated in the Windsor plants, new manufacturing equipment will be installed to raise the overall production capacity of the company.

Embodying the latest in industrial architecture the Oakville plant will be almost smokeless, noiseless and odorless. The interior of the plant has been designed both for production efficiency and the comfort of employees.

The major construction job in the interior of the plant was the installation of the immensely complicated automobile assembly lines. The operation of the entire plant — the largest industrial plant under one roof in Canada — must be coordinated so that the right part reaches the right car at exactly the right moment. To supply the needed power, more than 300 miles of wire and high tension cable and a score of transformers have been installed.

A three-quarter mile race track could be laid out inside the building — and still leave plenty of room for thousands of spectators. Or you could put 14 Maple Leaf Gardens on its roof. More than 8,000 tons of steel went into its construction. It used more than 50,000 cubic yards of concrete; 250,000 square feet of aluminum siding; more than 1,000,000 bricks; and more than 2,000,000 man-hours of labor. The building is 1,760 feet in length (1/3 of a mile) and 800 feet wide, or close to 1,270,000 square feet of floor area.

When in full production the new plant will employ about 4,000 people.

School Board Hears Future Possibilities

Have you lost your favorite tie boots or rubbers? If you have and your son or daughter is a normal school child of 12 and over nine chances out of ten your favorite tie is headed for the needy after May 15 as the result of Mondays School Board meeting.

The true picture of disappearing property came to light when the board learned that the janitors held a large assortment of unclaimed articles despite the fact that notices have appeared in the school for the past three weeks.

Discussion brought many things to light; First was the boy that wore his fathers new rubbers, left them at school and denied ownership. Father found and claimed them three months later. Then there is the party that lost a box of paints. Her name is in the box yet she won't claim them. Another girl lost a pen, was notified to claim it. A couple of weeks later it had to be delivered to her. School janitors have a lot of articles, in fact too many, and were instructed to give it to the needy after May 15.

A. Easton applied to rent the school paint spray. Permission was granted.

Mrs. J. Montalbetti conferred with the board regarding decorating of residence. Tenders have been called for this work.

Correspondence regarding Coronation brought out the fact that the board has purchased mugs for the children and cannot contribute to the community celebration. Regarding childrens sports that day, it was learned that teachers would assist but they were not empowered to order them to work on a holiday.

It was decided to send the Secretary to the Short Course on School Administration to be held in Edmonton.

Authorization was received for the sale of debentures and the department authorized as selling agents.

Permission was granted to use of the Auditorium to A. Bucka for the music exams, and to the Salvation Army for a musical program.

United church was granted 6 obsolete light fixtures for a token payment.

Notice was given that another school sign had been destroyed by motorists.

Principal Allen reported plans to resurrect the School track meet. D. Holly and J. Bayon will attend a meeting at Blairmore in this regard.

Attendance at school stands at 634, a drop of 14 in a month. With this in mind Mr. Allan gave a review and possible teacher needs. He was empowered to act for the board in filling needs as they arise.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS

A four team league was formed to provide Crows Nest Pass baseball fans with enjoyment again this year as the result of a meeting in the Blairmore Legion Club Rooms last Sunday.

During the meeting Coleman, Pincher Creek and Michel-Natal expressed the desire to form a league again this year, while a letter from the Fernie club indicated that they intend being in the league again. Blairmore Canucks were unable to signify their intentions until their meeting had been held, although it is expected they will participate again this year.

C. Freeman, Coleman, returned to office as President again this year. Ulrich Tiberg returning to the position of secretary

Brownie News

1st. Coleman Brownie Pack met in the S. A. Hall, Wed. April 29th. with eight Brownies in attendance. Some of the girls were confused about the meeting, because of school being closed for the afternoon. A number of Brownies reported having attended the "Service" at the Frank Slide.

Carole Nelson, Louise Crippen, Neata Guthrie, and Marie Yakula practiced their "knots". They are working hard on these hoping to pass their "test" next week.

Neata Guthrie, and Louise Crippen returned their "Tidy Room" cards; this entitles them to pass this test. Neata also brought her "Flags"; the three crosses, and Union Jack, neatly drawn and colored. Another test passed, Neata!

Several Brownies are wearing their "Coronation Tribute" badges. This is a symbol of their efforts to help "other people" and do all they can to help make their home, and community a happier place to live. Some girls are planning a special Coronation flower garden, this will help to beautify our town.

Another bundle of folded bags were delivered to the Hospital this week. Brownies are proving themselves to be very good little "sales ladies". Cookies are selling very well.

If you are over 80 years of age, and willing to let the Brownies give a little party, and presentation in your honor, please leave your name, and age at the Red and White Store. Thank you.

May 13th. has been the date set to honour "our elderly" guests.

Bye for now,
Brown Owl

Weddings

YELIGA — STEWART

On April 25, St. Paul's United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Kathryn, second younger daughter of Mr. Alex Stewart, became the bride of Rudolph Yeliga, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mayerchuk. Rev. Morrison officiated at the afternoon service.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon with a lace bodice, trimmed with seed pearls, lilypoint sleeves and a full floor length net skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion net fell from a sweetheart headdress of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Miss Mildred Bodner, as bridesmaid, wore a blue net gown with broaded bodice, matching bolero and full net skirt. She wore a shoulder length blue veil with matching braided crown and carried a nosegay of carnations.

Supporting the groom as best man was Mr. Barney Saloff.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hammer following the ceremony. The bride's table was centred with a three tier wedding cake flanked on either side with flowers. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by the best man, to which the groom ably responded.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a sea green, two-piece suit with white accessories.

Following a honeymoon trip to points in the States, the happy couple will take up residence in Coleman.

Bellevue Lions Busy Planning For Victoria Day

Members of the Bellevue Lions Club including Fred Paskuski, Joe Fortunato, M. R. Venier, and "Mel" McEachern met with Lion President Wm. Marcollin to further develop plans for the coming May 18th Victoria Day Celebration. Foremost among the many topics discussed was the confirmation that Bill Goodwin and his Crownstent Pass Band would be in attendance. This led to the selection of a Parade committee to manage the various items in that connection including floats, participating groups, timing, routes, cars, prizes and infimum. Rounding out the musical aspects of the festival, it was decided to hold a "Hard Times Dance" complete with costumes to match and an admission of twenty-five cents per person in the Bellevue arena on the evening of the 18th. With regard to the variety concert to be staged during the afternoon, it was decided to set the prices of admission at 50c for adults, 25c for students and 15c for children with no seats reserved this year. As in former years, Lion "Bill" Marcollin would be in the ticket box to greet the crowd. Lion Joey Fortunato, program organizer, announced that the title of this year's concert was to be "Crownstent Pass Entertainers", in line with the "All C.N.P." line-up of artists to be presented, by Lion "Bill" Harper, able Master of Ceremonies. The May Queen Coronation Ceremony, according to protocol, carried out by the Lion President's wife, would be in the capable hands of charming, petite Mrs. Helen Marcollin. The prizes to be presented to the May Queens and the winners of the various "float" contest would come from the Lions own cash fund and from the proceeds of a merchant-canvas duty to be carried out. Total net proceeds from the entire celebration will go towards the Lions Trust Fund for community purposes. Lion "Mel" disclosed that in excess of $2,000 had been distributed from the fund to the major project alone which was the aiding of worthwhile students to complete their education.

Pass Commemorates Anniversary Of Slide

Shown here are a few of the Pass residents who stood in a continual drizzle of rain to mark the 50th anniversary of the Frank Slide. Speaking is Padre Moss of Coleman. photos by E. Gushul, cuts by courtesy of Calgary Albertan

NEW SIGN UNVEILED AT CIVIC SERVICES

Memorable speeches, paying homage to the dead, suitable hymns and the strains of the Donnelly Pipe Band mingled with the steady drip drip of rain as hundreds stood with wet feet and mostly bareheads to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Frank Slide last Wednesday afternoon.

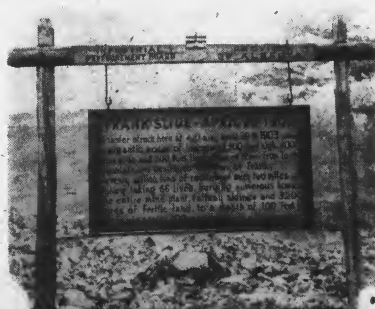

Assembled around the grave that contains the remains of a few victims of the catastrophe, young and old soon turned the ground into mud as an inch deep felt rain trickle down their necks and chill them to the bone without chilling their spirit. The event gave evidence to the organizing ability of the Blaimore Board of Trade and the co-operation that can be achieved in Pass towns as business men in all centres closed their stores and attended the services despite the inclement weather.

The opening portion of the day was a memorial service with the clergy of the Pass taking the service. Rev. F. R. Haythorne gave the invocation, followed by the scripture reading by Capt. Wm. Carey. After a prayer by Rev. J. P. Kinney, Padre Harry Moss D.C.M. delivered the talk with Rev. A. E. Morrison taking the Dedicator Prayer. Benediction was given by Rev. J. Moules after which the Coleman Pipe Band played "My Home" at the graveside.

The second portion, being a Civic Ceremony, heard words of welcome and a tribute to the dead and survivors of the catastrophe by Reeve F. P. Veprava, of Frank and similar remarks by Mayor W. J. Gray, of Blaimore. Mayor Frank Abousary of Coleman brought to the gathering the magnitude of the slide as a national shrine and as a slide as a national shrine and as a slide as a national shrine.

W. Kovach, M.L.A. reminded all assembled that they were standing on hallowed ground and remarked on the magnitude of the disaster while introducing Ralph Moore, Deputy Minister of Economic Affairs who would unveil the new sign. Mr. Moore in his remarks quoted vital statistics regarding the slide and elaborated on the thought that while it was perhaps the greatest in the world it also erected a monument to the dead as it broke the thriving town of Frank.

Following the official unveiling, the party continued on a tour of the slide returning to the Old Timers reunion.

Padre H. Moss, Gives Thought Provoking Address

One Must Have a Sure And Sound Foundation In Life

Taking his text from the 46 Psalm, Padre Harry Moss, D.C.M., delivered a message to the gathering that made most people assembled to return to their homes with a far different state of mind regarding the calamity that befell Frank 50 years ago. "There was one lesson to take to heart," the speaker informed his audience, and that was one must have a sure and solid foundation to one's life. Elaborating on the strength and refuge that is God, he mentioned that beauty, grandeur and majesty of this hallowed spot. Why are we here he asked in his opening words, are we here to commemorate the dead, to pay tribute to the pioneers that survived? Worship, he emphasized, that is why we are here.

Having impressed the hundreds with the feeling of sacrifice he brought his remarks to a climax showing how we gain from the good that others have done in the past and suffered from the evils. This cuts both ways he claimed. There being no security, not even for the good may suffer for things they have not caused. Can we think of anything more that the people are seeking today than security? The 20th century is a risky business, and instead of being adventurous as were the people of a few years back, all we think of is survival. The pioneer spirit has given way to soft thinking, even in our religion, and everyone should today say as his prayer "Master It is good for us to be here." We should pray not to keep us safe, but to keep us loyal. Looking over the devastation of the Frank Slide parallels the thought how Christ was broken for us on the cross and how out of the fragments God has made us true sons and daughters.

Says Oldtimer: IT WON'T HAPPEN AGAIN

There are many people, some of them expert geologists, who claim that there is a danger of another Frank Slide, within the next year or the next century, they don't know. But a pioneer Frank resident, F. A. Ruzicka, who operates a general store there, says there is no danger.

Mr. Ruzicka missed the slide by one month—he was a passenger on the first train to come across the slide after the tracks were relaid.

In August of that year, Mr. Ruzicka recalled, he was with a party that measured one of the cracks on the top of the mountain. "Last year," he said in an interview recently, "we measured it again, and it was still exactly the same width. There is no danger now of a big slide. The worst that can happen is what has been happening for the past 50 years—small slides occurring now and again."

People shop where they are invited—that's why it pays to advertise.

Due to the fact that countless stories have been published of late regarding the Frank Slide and that the Journal carried a story last year based on information of such survivors as Billy Jenkins, Teddy Barnes and Frank and Arthur Graham, we have used the space at our disposal to record the events of the 50th anniversary rather than publish another account of the slide itself.

SPECIAL CATHOLIC SERVICE ON SLIDE ANNIVERSARY

On Wednesday, April 29, the fifth anniversary of the tragic slide at Frank, the occasion was suitably recognized by the community.

To mark the occasion, the following ceremony took place in St. Anne's Church, Blaimore at 10:30 a.m.

Solemn Anniversary Requiem High Mass, Celebrant, Very Reverend L. Sullivan, V.F., of Coleman.

Deacon of the Mass, Reverend Father LaBonte, O.M.I., of Pincher Creek.

Sub-deacon, Reverend G. Marlen of Cowley.

Preacher of special Panegyric, Reverend B. Holland, of Bellevue-Hillcrest.

The following priests signified their intention of attending the Mass: Rev. M. LaFrance, O.M.I.; Rev. M. Michaud, O.M.I.; Rev. J. Levern, O.M.I.; Rev. J. McGilgus, O.M.I.; Rev. J. McDonald, C.S.S.R.; Rev. E. Brophy, Rev. J. Poulton, O.M.I. and Rev. A. Anderson.

OLD TIMERS GATHER

A visual story of the Pass, both old and new, was shown the old timers reunion at Turtle Mountain last Wednesday as Evan Gushul, of Coleman and Rev.

Young combined to show slides of the area.

Rev. Young, one of the first ministers at Frank, and later at Blaimore, spoke at length of the early days as he showed lantern slides of the area including views of Turtle Mountain before and after the slide, the Hillcrest and Bellevue explosions. Mr. Gushul completed the pictorial history by showing color slides depicting industrial and road work, coal mining and flowers and animal life of the Pass, highlighting his series of slides of Turtle Mountain and the Slide, bringing it to a climax with a wide angle panorama showing Turtle Mountain, Crows Nest Mountain, the Seven Sisters, Goat Mountain and part of Grassy Mountain.

During his discourse, Rev. Young referred to Mr. Dexter, former principal of Frank school and now a lawyer in California. Mr. Gushul added coincidence to the evening by showing a slide of the same man and his son Peter fishing at Radium, having met him there the past two summers.

During the reunion survivors of the slide and other oldtimers gathered in little groups recalling incidents and comparing notes.

Event Carried on Nation Wide Radio Broadcast

The Crows Nest Pass, and more especially Frank, received considerable nationwide publicity last week as daily papers, magazine sections and radios carried the story of Frank's disaster 50 years ago to the length and breadth of the nation.

Radio station C.F.A.C. Calgary, and C.J.O.C. Lethbridge piped the memorial services to radio listeners, and recorded the ceremonies for a later broadcast over C.B.C. News Roundup. Representing the Lethbridge station were Bill Skelton, news editor and Doug Card and Vic Reed, technicians.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

Uncle Joe Sells His Farm

It Turned Out To Be Expensive, But Satisfying.

By M. J. COLLINS

UNCLE JOE came stamping into the kitchen.

"You be careful!" Aunt Martha warned, waving a mixing spoon threateningly. "I have bread stiring. And wipe your feet when you traipse in from that dirty barn."

"Gee darn it, woman, you put what I was going to say clean out of my head," he grumbled. "Oh yes, now I remember—I think we should sell out and go live in town."

"Joe Quinn! Are you batty?" "No I ain't! But I'm pushin' close to 70 and you ain't gettin' any younger yourself. That don't leave us much time to enjoy life. So I say sell out while the prices are high and move to town."

"I'm not leaving our home to suit a whim of yours. Get the idea out of your head!" There was finally in her voice. "You go and clean up. Ralph and Jenny are coming over for supper."

"Well, I still think it's a darn good idea," he mumbled as he went to wash up.

We didn't have the slightest inkling of what Uncle Joe had suggested until supper was nearly over and then Aunt Martha asked, "Do you know what your Uncle wants to do?" and as she generally does, answered herself. "Sell the farm and move to town."

"Oh, I think that's a good idea," Jenny cried. "It'll be so much easier for you."

"I don't want to go to town!" Aunt Martha looked begrudgingly at him. "I've lived here all my life, I'm perfectly happy!"

The first thing we knew, we were involved in a full scale battle, three against Aunt Martha, but she wasn't giving an inch. Not her! Finally she did admit that she didn't get her work done just as spry as before and from there on the battle was won.

Uncle Joe was jubilant. It had been easier than he'd dreamed. "Now you don't have to sit there and look so pleased. I can almost hear you purr," Aunt scowled.

"I'll go into town tomorrow," he said, "and put an ad in the paper. How much should I ask, Ralph?"

"Eight thousand."

"You don't think that's too much?" I shook my head. "A very reasonable price."

Within a few weeks the sale was completed and the new owner bought the farm complete with stock and implements for ten thousand dollars. He told Uncle Joe they could have another two weeks to find a house and move.

"Why not move your furniture over to our place and store it?" Jenny suggested, "and build a new house. Ralph has plenty of logs in the bush so you wouldn't be short of lumber."

"Now that's a darn good idea!" Uncle Joe beamed. "That's if you folks don't mind."

"No, not at all," I assured him. "Leave it to Jenny to think up a solution. We'll come over and help with the packing."

"When they left, Jenny said, 'Somehow I don't think he is happy about it.'"

"Don't worry, honey," I slipped my arm around her waist. "It's high time those two took a rest."

Next morning we were over at their place and into the job of packing. About nine-thirty the new owner drove out and hailed Uncle Joe.

"I've been thinking it over, Mr. Quinn, and this place doesn't quite suit me. How would you like to buy it back at the same price?"

Uncle Joe sort of looked pop-eyed. "Well, sir! I just don't know what to say," he mumbled. "The wife has set her mind on movin' to town."

"Faith, and I haven't!" Aunt Martha swung her arms around excitedly. "You buy it back, Joe Quinn, if you know what's good for you!"

"Well, let's go to town," there was no reluctance in Uncle Joe's voice, and get the papers fixed up."

We went outside, leaving Aunt Martha crying softly in Jenny's arms. I watched them drive away and Uncle Joe was grinning for all he was worth. Perhaps the look on my face had something to do with it.

"Not a word," he admonished. "Later when we were driving home, Jenny said, 'It was lucky the man wanted to sell it back. Neither one of them wanted to leave the farm.'"

"Lucky my eye!" I snorted. "It was just plain convincing on Uncle Joe's part. He made an agreement to pay the owner an extra thousand if he'd come out and say what he did. Don't say a word to Aunt Martha. He told me to keep it under my hat."

"Well, what do you know," Jenny laughed. "Uncle is still a bit of a one."

"An expensive one," I said. "Jenny waited five minutes before telling me that. Aunt Martha had already paid the man five hundred dollars to sell the farm back to her husband."

Funny and Otherwise

"Surv, an' on come from Ireland, the richest country in the world." "Why the richest country?" "Bejabbers, an' hasn't its capital always been Dublin itself?"

Two dear things met in the street. "My dear," said one, "your hat is becoming—" And as the other began to purr, she continued: "quite a means of identification, isn't it?"

"Of course, I must ask you for a deposit," said the landlady.

"Certainly," replied the new tenant, handing over the required sum.

"Thanks. Now, shall we trust each other or do you want a receipt?"

"It is high time," said the reformer, "that we had a moral awakening. Let us rise in our might. Let us give our coats. Let us take off our hats. Let us have arms. Let us have a revolution."

"Hold on!" exclaimed a tall, thin woman near the platform, "if this is to be a moral awakening, don't you dare to take off another thing!"

Johnnie, aged four, appeared at his father's study door clapping in his hands a forlorn-looking chick which had strayed from a neighbor's suburban.

"John," said his father, sternly, "take that chicken back to his mother."

"It hasn't got a mother," answered John.

"Well, take it back to its father," said the boy's parent, determined to maintain authority.

"It hasn't got a father, either," said Johnnie. "It hasn't got anything but an old lamp."

This "howler" from a recent essay by a schoolboy is said to be genuine. He wrote:

It is raining cats and dogs and there were puddles in the road.

A well-driven golf ball leaves the head of the club at 135 miles an hour. This is only slightly faster than a goiter leaves the office.

The lorry took a corner too sharply and crashed into the kitchen of a cottage. "I'm sorry," said the driver, popping his head out, "but I really wanted the coast road."

"That's easy," said the housewife, carrying on with her cooking. "Just go straight on into the living-room and turn right by the sideboard."

Cannasser: "You pay a small deposit and make no more payments for six months."

Housewife: "Who's been telling you about us?"

Four Western Provinces Plan Budgets Over Half Billion Dollars

(By The Canadian Press)

The four western provinces plan a budgetary outlay of $538,000,000 in the next 12 months.

Presentation of Manitoba's estimated revenues rounded out the West's budget picture. Overall expenditures will exceed estimated revenues in the four provinces by about $107,000,000.

Total outlay, by provinces, including capital expenditures, loans to municipalities and sums advanced to self-sustaining utilities, follows: B.C., $174,892,838; Alberta, $174,083,130; Saskatchewan, $110,725,920; Manitoba, $78,400,000.

Estimated revenue: B.C. $167,389,013; Alberta, $138,368,160; Saskatchewan, $70,515,810; Manitoba, $55,000,000.

Outlay is higher this year than last in all provinces except B.C. There, the new Social Credit government cut expenditures by about $11,000,000 in "pay as you go" plan.

Accumulated surpluses will be used to bridge the gap between revenue and outlay.

Alberta also is dipping into a $95,000,000 "nest egg" of accumulated surpluses to finance a $25,000,000 municipal loan plan and take care of other expenditures over and above current revenue. That's quite a feat for a man of 97.

"I work all the time," said Mr. Warden, who was born in New York state in 1855 and came here via Brockville, Ont., and Vermilion, Alta. "It keeps me going. If I didn't work, I wouldn't be here long. I like to work. It does you good."

100,000 "nest egg" of accumulated surpluses to finance a $25,000,000 municipal loan plan and take care of other expenditures over and above current revenue. That's quite a feat for a man of 97.

Saskatchewan's $40,300,000 gap between estimated revenue and outlay is made up of $17,300,000 in advances to the provincially-owned power and telephone corporations.

Manitoba is allotting $24,000,000 on capital account as advances to self-sustaining utilities.
